Good Samaritan called anti-Asian slur and spit at while delivering groceries to families

posted by Randall

A nurse in San Francisco says a White man spit on him and called him a “gk” as he tried to deliver prescriptions to a family shut in by the stay at home order.

Kyle Navarro says he’s a school nurse. He says the entire staff has been delivering groceries and medicine to students and their families.

Stunned, Navarro says he was comforted by a “lola” which is Tagalog for a grandmother.

“To the Lola who asked how I was, I let you know. You have no idea how much I needed that. “

To the racist older white man who spat at me & called me a “gk” as I was delivering prescriptions to a family: No thank you

To the Lola who asked after how I was: I let you know, but you have no idea how much I needed that Processing: Angry, saddened, & honoring my feelings.

Navarro also went on Twitter to acknowledge Black, Brown, queer and trans have been experiencing the same hatred for ages.

It’s important to honor the very real reactions of myself and other Asians & Asian Americans to this racism, but also want to acknowledge that this is the kinda shit

Black & Brown folx have been experiencing for ages. Even more so to those of queer &/or trans identities.

He also encouraged other Asian Americans to call out racism when they see it.

That being said – this should be a reminder to people, especially Asians/Asian Americans, to call out racist BS when you see it before, during, and after this COVID-19 pandemic. Call out the antiblack, anti queer, classist, colorist, etc. behaviors w your fam, friends, & self.

He also asked people to donate to Filipino Advocates for Justice in San Francisco which is dedicated to immigrant and civil rights.

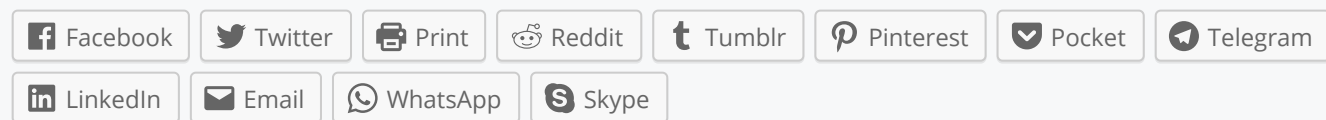

This is kind of blowing up – wanna plug a few things:

Consider donating to .@Fils4Justice they're a dope org by my hometown dedicated to advocating for immigrant & civil rights and leadership & organizing development. Volunteered for em back in undergrad <https://t.co/lpZDzx3nKN>
